Travel Insurance & Health policy:

Why Does Travel Insurance Matter?

Given today's changing travel environment and our previous experience, it is important to protect your travel investment so you can relax and enjoy your trip. Unforeseen events such as flight delays, Baggage loss, or even a sudden sickness or injury could impact your travel plans.

Delayed and canceled flights are common:

About 80 Percent of domestic flights arrived on time in 2027. Nearly 162,000 flights were delayed, and around 15,000 flights were canceled. Your trip may be interrupted if you can arrive at the destination on time. Please be advised that neither hotels nor tour operators are responsible for such unused but pre-paid hotel accommodation or pre-arranged sightseeing under such circumstances. No compensation option is possible without insurance protection.

All carriers in the travel industry have their cancellation policies:

When you call the tour operator and explain what happened, they're sympathetic- but it seems likely you're not getting your money back. All tour operators have their cancellation policies. Most likely you can get - No refund if you cancel less than 30 days prior to departure. Cancel before then, you'll probably still lose Money. Penalties range from the amount of your initial deposit up to 100 percent of what you paid.

It can be expensive to get the emergency medical care or medical evacuation overseas:

Most hospitals overseas will not accept your domestic health insurance card if you're not prepared - to pay all your medical bills out of pocket, you need travel insurance. What happens if you seriously- Hurt while traveling overseas and require medical evacuation by helicopter or ambulance? It will cost you roughly 220,000, Just the cost of transporting you from Asia to the hospital in the U.S.

The U.S. Department of State says so!

Foreign U.S. embassies can help you replace a stolen passport, contact family or friends in the U.S., Find medical care or legal assistance, communicate with local police, and connect you with various- Resources. But you must pay for your medical care and emergency transportation yourself.

Peace of mind is priceless:

The whole point of vacation is to relax and enjoy the journey. Travel insurance can ease your anxiety. Because you know you have protection in case of common travel mishaps.

It is easy to find affordable travel insurance:

If you're already paying thousands for a long-awaited tour, cruise, or resort vacation, it's tough to Spend. Even a little more on insurance.
